WRITERS WORKSHOP

“We all know our stories, but it is not until we shape them in writing that we start to know our journeys.”

– Erika Duncan, Founder & Artistic Director

WORKSHOPS FOR THE COMMUNITY

Three-hour Intensive Weekly Workshops Focusing on Book-Length Projects

For women who wish to make the longer commitment of transforming their life journeys into book-length memoirs...

These workshops provide women from the community with an opportunity to work with Herstory’s founder and artistic director, whose incorporation of masters-level literary tools into Herstory’s empathy-based approach allows writers from all walks of life to work side by side to create powerful art.

No writing experience is necessary, simply the desire to dare to begin...

These workshops take place at our Centereach hub, with open month-to-month enrollment, and are intended for women who are serious about learning the tools of sustained narratives, with an emphasis on using the Herstory technique to create dramatic structures, while finding the core of each person’s wisdom and voice. No previous writing experience is necessary, but commitment to the ongoing nature of the process and the working group is expected.
